This is a little more into the pop arena but nevertheless I felt it was something I'd like to people to get a hold of. It's basically a collection of very well written songs that are danceable to and very soulful and sexy vocals accompany the beats.

Therese is Lebanese and has quite a reputation in that part of the world. It's nice to see people from the Middle East emerging in the pop and rock arena. Hopefully we'll see more of that. I loved all the songs and the production is very well done. Definitely a gem people must check out.
